Silverton Mortgage Specialists Continue their Commitment to the Atlanta Intown Community:

Team Silverton Mortgage Raises more than $10,000 for My House

Atlanta, GA – Silverton Mortgage Specialists, a leading residential mortgage broker, continues its history of giving back to the local community. For the past seven years, this Atlanta-based mortgage company has hosted fundraisers for local charities, raising thousands of dollars. Silverton continued its pledge this year by entering a team in the First Annual ING Marathon and raised more than $10,000 for My House, a non-profit charity in Atlanta providing a home-like living environment for special-needs infants who are ready to leave the hospital but have nowhere to go.

“We believe that giving back to our community is a big part of what it means to be really successful,” says company Founder and President Josh Moffitt. “One weekend a few friends got together and we made up our minds to put our time to good use. We decided that we could raise money for some great local causes if we held a kickball tournament and charged team entry fees. It worked: over the past several years, we have hosted an annual KickNick and raised thousands of dollars for local charities such as Atlanta Public Parks and Emory Health Clinic. This year, we decided to form a marathon team, raising money for a worthwhile charity right around the corner.”
